Campus Resources Available Following Poway Shooting

As we continue to grieve following Saturday's senseless act of violence and hate at Chabad of Poway, let's recommit to each doing our part to ensure that CSUSM is not just a place that talks about being a diverse and welcoming community, but one that shows it through our actions and priorities.

White supremacy, anti-Semitism and any other doctrines that promote hatred or racism have no place at CSUSM or anywhere else in our community. CSUSM values being an inclusive and welcoming campus, one committed to diversity and welcoming all people to study and work at our university.

I have been in touch with CSUSM's incoming president, Dr. Ellen Neufeldt, who has expressed her deepest sympathies for the victims, friends, families and our entire community. She stands in solidarity with our students, faculty, staff and community.

I have directed our campus flag to be flown at half-staff this week in honor of the victims of Saturday's shooting (the state and American flags can only be lowered by order of the governor/president of the United States).

Please remember that we have resources available for those who need support. I also want to alert you to some of the community events occurring this week should you wish to attend.

Karen Haynes, Ph.D.
President
